Secretary Shaw, of the Treasury Department, has sounded a warning against wholesale expenditures in the coming Congress. He says that the expenditures exceed the receipts in a manner that is alarming and that there must be strong economy practiced.

POLICE SPY ON THE GRID

AH NAM, A WITNESS IN A ROBBERY CASE, HANDLED WITHOUT GLOVES THIS MORNING.

Ah Nam, the police spy, spent an hour or so on the grid this morning and he did not appear to enjoy the sensation with the fortitude of a St. Lawrence. He made his appearance as a witness for the prosecution in the case of Tom Sung, Chung Hung, Ung Hing, Chew Tuck and Lee Kap, all accused under the same indictment with having robbed a Japanese named Shigoto who lives in the Kailhi valley. Ah Nam and Chung Choy who were also accused had their cases nolle prossed and have turned evidence for the prosecution.

Ah Nam told a straight enough story under direct examination. He detailed how he and the other men had met and had agreed to the robbery of the Japanese and how they had subsequently carried their plot into effect.

Attorney Douthitt who was appointed to the defense by Judge De Bolt yesterday, went over Ah Nam's record with a fine toothed-comb making him admit that there were four if not five indictments against him. While the witness was plainly ill at ease he stuck pretty well to his story told in chief. He admitted that he was only to get one share of the spoils as he and Chung Choy were not to enter the house to be robbed, but were to watch outside. The case continues this afternoon.

Ah Nam, by the way, is one of the principal witnesses in the charges of accepting bribes now pending against certain former police officers.

JONES A WRECK WHEN ARRESTED

THE QUESTION OF THE ADMISSIBILITY OF HIS ALLEGED CONFESSION BEING ARGUED.

Again this morning did the Jones murder case tangle itself up in a maze of legalities. The prosecution is still attempting to get into evidence the confession which Jones is alleged to have made to Deputy High Sheriff Chillingworth just after arrest.

H. W. Kinney, was put on the stand by the defense. He was present at the time that Jones was brought in and stated that at the time the accused man was a bedraggled wreck. Jones had said that he was hungry, asked for beef steak and beer and also asked for whiskey. He had told his story in a bewildered fashion. Under cross examination the witness stated that though seemingly bewildered at times and though much matter that was not material had been put in by Jones, the story he told was coherent and could be followed clearly.

A recess was taken while counsel could look up authorities on the point of how the confession could be put in when it involved the killing of Mrs. Parmenter, his mother-in-law, by Jones whereas he is now on trial for having killed his wife Linda K. Jones.

A PAIR THAT BEATS TWO KINGS

King Edward the Seventh and his august nephew the Emperor Wilhelm the Second, may commiserate with one another today, for each has lost a loyal subject. Judge Dole did the deed in the Federal Court when he granted naturalization papers to Will Prestige, a native of New South Wales and to Carl Felix, who formerly owned the sway of the Imperial German scepter. Prestige was only recently elected an officer in the National Guard, having served several years in the ranks and as a sergeant.
